Tie-out: Peer loan classes, quarter ended 30 June 2026

Every class amount on the workbook's Peer loan classes tab, read out of Excel, against each bank's own 10-Q as filed with the SEC. Built 15 Oct 2026 by threshold-engine (PR #442).

Tied out: 33 of 33 class amounts. TIED 33 · DIFFERS 0 · COULD NOT 0

Workbook: `C:\Users\ajish\SATC\threshold-engine\docs\walkthrough-book\out\consumer-credit.xlsx`, opened in Excel 16.0 after a full recalculation; the tab has 0 error cells. Every one of the 24 quotes behind the findings was found word for word in the filed text; 27 findings say "not stated" and are listed as searches, not as proof of zero.

1 · How the dots connect

The same fact travels two roads. Only the lower one is the check: it reads the 10-Q document the reader sees, fresh from SEC, with its own parser, so a fault in the build's pull or parser would show as a difference. Both roads start at a document neither the bank's analyst nor this tool controls.

2 · One figure, traced end to end: Citizens' student loans, $8,044 million

Link 1, the figure. On the Peer loan classes tab, row 28, "Education", $ millions: Excel shows 8,044 (value 8044.0). Read by `read_workbook.ps1` through Excel itself, not by reading the file's XML.

Link 2, the call. The tool's pull, `peers classes-pull`, made these requests (SEC requires a contact in the User-Agent header):

GET https://data.sec.gov/submissions/CIK0000759944.json      → 10-Q, report date 2026-06-30, accession 0000759944-26-000148, filed 2026-08-03

Link 3, the derivation. In the instance, the fact `us-gaap:FinancingReceivableExcludingAccruedInterestBeforeAllowanceForCreditLoss` (loans at amortized cost, before the allowance) whose context is the instant 2026-06-30 and whose only dimensions are `us-gaap:ConsumerPortfolioSegmentMember` and `us-gaap:StudentLoanMember` holds 8,044,000,000. Divided by 1,000,000: 8,044. Nothing else is done to it. Which members make "Education" is stated in `config/peer-loan-classes.json` (Citizens, its first class), as is that it counts as Student.

"XBRL fact": the class's amount is compared with the inline XBRL fact of the same members in the filed document. "Printed": the class is not tagged by class, so the filed page was searched for a table row with the class's label carrying the printed figure (the row is quoted), or, for a figure printed in a sentence, for the sentence. SoFi prints thousands; Bank of America and Fifth Third's RV and marine print billions in a sentence.

4 · How to run it yourself

From `threshold-engine`, with Python 3.9 or later and Excel. Put your own name and email in place of the contact (SEC refuses requests without one; it is not stored).

python -m threshold_engine peers classes-pull --cache books/sec_cache --classes config/peer-loan-classes.json --quart er 2026Q2 --user-agent "Your Name you@yourbank.com"
```

```
python -m threshold_engine book books/consumer-public.json consumer-credit.xlsx
```

```
cd docs/tie-out/peer-loan-classes-2026q2
powershell -File read_workbook.ps1 -Path ..\..\..\consumer-credit.xlsx -Out out\ours.json
```

```
set SEC_USER_AGENT=Your Name you@yourbank.com python filed.py ../../../config/peer-loan-classes.json out/filed.json
```

```
python compare.py ../../../config/peer-loan-classes.json out/ours.json out/filed.json out/roster.json
```

The last prints "Tied out: N of 33" and every row that is not TIED, with why. To check one figure by hand: open the 10-Q link above, find the table in the photograph, and read the Education row's Total.

5 · What it found

- The filings settle who holds student loans. Citizens (Education, $8,044m) and SoFi ($16,921m, at fair value) carry them as classes of their own; PNC folded education loans into Other consumer on 1 Jan 2026 "based on materiality considerations", with no amount; KeyCorp holds $182m in discontinued operations, outside loans, and names student loan refinancing among its products. Capital One's 10-Q says Discover "sold its student loan portfolio" before the merger closed. The word "student" does not appear at all in the other twelve 10-Qs (table below).
- Two banks are clean comparisons for unsecured lending: Capital One (Personal loans, $8,619m, its own class) and Fifth Third (Unsecured, $626m, split out of Other consumer in its Table 44). Every other bank's other consumer mixes unsecured lending with student, secured or undefined lending, or is mostly something else (M&T's recreational finance, Wells Fargo's and Bank of America's securities-based lending, SoFi's fair-value loans).
- The readers missed two sentences, and this tie-out found them. The three agents that read the filings recorded "not stated" for KeyCorp's secured non-auto lending and Capital One's student loans. The tie-out's own search of the filed text found "Our consumer loans have collateral that includes residential real estate, automobiles, boats, and RVs." (KeyCorp) and the Discover sentence (Capital One). Both findings were corrected before this build.

Bank	Student finding	"student" in the filed 10-Q
KeyBank	stated	4
Citizens	stated	0
PNC	stated	0
Truist	not stated	0
Fifth Third	not stated	0
Huntington	not stated	0
M&T	not stated	0
Regions	not stated	0
Zions	not stated	0
First Citizens	not stated	0
U.S. Bank	not stated	0
JPMorgan	not stated	0
Wells Fargo	not stated	0
Bank of America	not stated	0
Citi	not stated	0
Capital One	stated	4
SoFi	stated	117

6 · What I got wrong

- The first comparison showed 3 DIFFERS: Fifth Third's RV and marine and Bank of America's two sentence figures. The fault was in the comparison script, not the workbook: it multiplied "$2.8 billion" by the whole amount instead of by $1,000 million a billion. Corrected; the workbook did not change.
- The first photograph of the Citizens table came out blank: the 10-Q does not render scrolled in headless Chrome. The table is now cut out of the filed document and rendered alone, with its own styling.
- Two findings the readers recorded as "not stated" were wrong (section 5): I had taken their records as the record. Every quote and every "not stated" is now checked against the filed text by the tie-out itself.

7 · What this does not prove

- What a class is counted as is a judgment. The amounts tie to the filings; "counted as" does not tie to anything. Where a filing does not define a class (KeyCorp's Other consumer loans, Truist's Other consumer, M&T's Other, U.S. Bank's Installment), its contents are unknown and the tab says Mixed.
- "Not stated" is a search, not a zero. It means the terms named were looked for in the 10-Q and not found. A bank can hold a small book it does not mention.
- Holding company, not bank. The 10-Q is the holding company's; the Call Report's other consumer is the bank's. For consumer loans they are close but they were not reconciled here.
- A printed figure is matched by its row's label and number, not by the table's title: a same-labeled row elsewhere in the filing carrying the same number would also pass. Each matched row is quoted in the roster so a reader can see which.
- One quarter. The tab is for 30 June 2026; next quarter's filings need the pull run again, and a bank that changes its classes needs its entry in the file changed.
